

PALACE BUTCHERY

Assassination of the Servian King and Queen Generally Sanctioned by the People.

BETTER CLASS FAVOR A REPUBLIC

A Majority of the New Ministers Declare in Favor of Prince Kara-Georgevitch as King.

Argue That Austria and Russia Would Not Countenance a Republican Form of Government.

Graphic Account of the Revolt of the Army Officers and the Putting to Death of the King and Queen and the Ministers.

Belgrade, June 13.—The assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, the queen's two brothers, the Servian premier, the minister of war and the former minister of war, perpetrated in the dark hours of Thursday morning by a band of officers, and the proclamation by the army of Prince Peter Kara-Georgevitch, the pretender to the throne, as king of Servia, has apparently, it may be said now that 36 hours has passed, been accepted by the capital and the Servian people without a murmur. The meeting of the skupshtina on Monday next is now looked forward to confirm the proclamation as king of Prince Kara-Georgevitch and to regularize the new situation.

The only new element in the situation is a feeling among the intelligent classes in favor of the abolition of a Servian monarchy altogether and the creation of a republic, and this sentiment is shared by at least one member of the provisional government.

In Favor of a Republic.

Differences of opinion on this point developed Friday at a meeting of the cabinet when the new foreign minister, Ljubomir Kallevich, expressed himself for the establishment of a republican form of government. The majority of the ministers, however, declared themselves in favor of a new king in Prince Peter Kara-Georgevitch. They strengthened their declaration by the strong argument that it was certain that Austria and Russia would not countenance the creation of a republic. This is the view generally shared by politicians.

The remains of the ill-fated king and queen were buried stealthily Thursday night in the chapel of St. Mark, where the members of the Obrenovitch family are interred.

LATE KING'S POSSESSIONS.

The New Servian Government Has Laid Claim to It.

The government has laid claim to the possessions of the late monarch. It is not known whether he left a fortune, but it is supposed that he had considerable savings, having lived economically during the last decade. It is reported that the greater part of his money was deposited in England, but it is questionable whether the money would be delivered to the Servian government. The opinion here is that all belongs to the state, even including the king's foreign investments. It is possible that former Queen Natalie may also appear as an heirless. Queen Draga was in receipt of 30,000 gulden ($14,550) monthly and also had great savings, which will be handed over to her three sisters.

The Story of the Revolution.

The following is a narrative of the revolution given by men who took an active part in it:

Army officers to the number of 90 having formed a project of a revolt, among them being delegates from almost every garrison in Servia and most of the officers of the six regiments, Lieut. Col. Mitschitsch invited his comrades on Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock to meet in the Kallmagden garden and there the immediate carrying out of the intended deed was organized. At 1:40 a. m. the officers, in eight groups, went to the Konak, the royal palace. Each had a cue and special directions regarding his part in the revolution.

TRAITORS IN THE PALACE.

Conspirators Were Handed the Keys to the Garden Gate.

In the konak (palace) itself the revolutionaries had two important partisans in the king's bodyguard. Col. Alexander Maschin, Queen Draga's cousin, and the king's personal adjutant, Lieut. Naumovics. Two officers of the high military academy appeared at the appointed hour, 2 a. m., at the gate of the konak, where the king's adjutant, Panajotovic, who was in the conspiracy, handed them the keys to the garden gate, which is always kept locked. First, stepping before the guard at the konak, one of the two officers called, "Throw down your arms." A fight ensued, with shots from both sides, in which several persons were wounded.

Entered Without Hindrance.

The revolutionists then entered the front garden without hindrance, and reached the court yard of the old konak, where Lieut. Naumovics was waiting. He opened the lock of the iron door leading to the front room on the first floor. By this it was seen that the konak was carefully closed and that danger was suspected. Hurrying upstairs to the first floor, the revolting officers attracted the attention of the palace attendants and the royal family by the noise of the shooting. Lieut. Lavar Peterovitch alarmed by the unwonted hubbub, hurried forward with a drawn revolver in one hand and a sword.

"What do you want?" he cried. "Show us where the king and queen are," came the reply. "Back," cried Petrovitch, and at the same moment a bullet stretched him on the ground.

CONSPIRATORS PRESS FORWARD.

The Intended Victims Had Fled From Their Sleeping Apartments.

The revolutionists pressed forward when suddenly the electric light gave out. All stood in darkness. In the greatest excitement, and feeling their way, the revolutionists climbed the stairs and entered the dark ante room to the king's apartment. Here they found candles and lit them. This seemingly slight circumstance was decisive to the whole action. Without light they could not have found the victims, who fled from their sleeping apartment through corridors and numerous rooms and might have escaped but part of the officers with burning candles and others with pistols commenced to search for the king and queen. In breathless haste the conspirators ran through the rooms, opened wardrobes and looked behind curtains in vain. In the ante room connecting with the corridor between the old and new konak, the sergeant of the gendarmes was sleeping. Awakening, he stepped before the revolutionists, who felled him.

Wounded By the Queen's Servant.

At last Queen Draga's servant was found. He wounded Capt. Dimitrevic severely but was spared until he showed the officers where King Alexander and Queen Draga had secreted themselves. When he had told this he was shot. Col. Maschin now joined the revolutionists and led them back to the sleeping apartment, where the king's adjutant tried to hinder the search. He shot Lieut. Naumovics dead. The others killed the adjutant. After a search a small door leading into an alcove was discovered, but it was locked. It was broken in with an ax and here the royal couple were found in undress. The older officers first intended to forcing the king to abdicate, but the young officers were in no mood to be held back and shot at the royal couple.

THE MONARCHS FOUND.

It Is Reported That Lieut. Kistic Fired the First Shot.

Nobody knows in the excitement who shot first, but it is generally said that Lieut. Kistic fired first.

After the murder, King Alexander's body was found covered with blood. An autopsy proved that the late king received 30 shot wounds, many of them deadly. Queen Draga suffered numerous shot and saber wounds and it is alleged that her body was torn in barbaric fashion. The appearance of the royal apartments is indescribable. The doors and floor are shattered and the ruins drenched with blood.

All the servants of the royal couple fled when the first shots were heard with the exception of Queen Draga's servant, who was found dead. Shortly after 2 o'clock all was over. Col. Maschin issued from the gate of the konak, around which great crowds had collected, and made a speech, saying: "We Have Destroyed the Dynasty."

"We have now destroyed the dynasty of the Obrenovics and have got rid of the dishonorable woman who was the king's evil spirit. Long live Servia."

The people responded: "Long live the army."

Almost simultaneously with the butchery in the palace the troops endeavored to arrest all the relatives of the queen and those ministers whom the conspirators disliked. Two brothers of the queen, Lieut. Col. Nikola and Nikodem Lunjevics, were seized and escorted to the guard room of the divisional commander. They evidently did not expect their doom and were lighting cigarettes when they were shot dead by eight soldiers.

During the recent showery weather, a heavy rain fell along Crooked Creek and the East Fork of Cabin Creek, causing a great deal of damage. A calf was caught in the flood in Fry's branch and was carried two miles, finally escaping uninjured.

Gov. Beckham has ordered that 100 members of the State guards be sent to Maysville next Monday to protect during trial the negro assailants of J. B. Farrow. Maj. Nelson Edwards, of Newport, will be in command. The negroes are Charles Saunders, Tom Mann and Ed. Morris, and are at present confined in the Covington jail.

The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church will use the money it will receive from Mrs. Speed's estate at Louisville amounting to about $225,000, to establish a college. Louisville is suggested as the location, though other places will seek it. The matter comes before the annual conference at Covington September 16th.

To-morrow will be Children's Day at the M. E. Church, Third street. An attractive service has been prepared by the Sunday school for that occasion. At night the Epworth League will hold their anniversary service which will consist of songs, short talks, reports of the year's work and installation of officers. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

The Court of Appeals reversed the Franklin Circuit Court in the case of Traynor vs. Beckham. The suit was filed by John Traynor for a mandamus to compel Gov. Beckham to issue to him a commission as Police Judge of Nicholasville. Traynor was elected by the Council and prior to his election Gov. Beckham had appointed G. W. Stanley to the office. The court holds that the Council has the right to fill the office.

Miss Edith Leola Frederick, a pupil in the North High School at Columbus, O., receives one of the scholarships in Ohio Wesleyan University, awarded to that High School graduate who has maintained the best record during the course. The scholarship entitles the holder to a four years' course at Delaware free. Miss Frederick is a niece of Mr. W. H. Frederick, of the Sixth ward, and was formerly a pupil in the schools of this city.

The Epworth Literary Society of the M. E. Church held its closing session for the summer last evening. The members had invited a number of friends and the evening proved very enjoyable throughout. Rev. Dr. Molloy delivered his interesting and instructive lecture on books, after which came the reading of the years record, followed by the roll call, each member responding with some quotation. Miss Marie Rains rendered several selections on the piano, and Miss Ort read an interesting article. Towards the close of the evening delicious frappe and cakes were served.

In the Circuit Court at Newport Friday Col. Crawford, for the Chesapeake and Ohio, argued the motion to set aside the verdict in the case of Elmer McCabe, who lost one leg and a portion of the foot of the other by being run over at Maysville by a C. and O. train. He sued for $25,000 damages and was given judgment for $3,500. Mr. Crawford argued that the lad was a trespasser and that there was no evidence to show that the engineer saw him until it was too late to check the train. McCabe was one of three lads who stole a ride on a freight train to Maysville, where they waited for the next train, coming west. They went to sleep on the track, and an incoming train killed two and, as stated, maimed the other. Judge Wright, for the plaintiff, replied in a strong argument in favor of the verdict, and the court took the case under submission.

THE MURDER TRIAL

Prosecution in the Jett-White Trial Will Rest its Case Sometime Saturday.

AFTER RELUCTANT WITNESSES

Drift of Evidence is Toward a Conspiracy Implicating Some of the County Officials and Others.

Defense Will Attempt to Establish An Alibi For Jett and Prove That White Had No Connection With the Tragedy.

Jackson, Ky., June 13.—The feature of the Jett-White trial Friday was the drift of evidence towards a conspiracy implicating county officials and others and tending to show that Jett and White had no such motives as the conspirators, but were simply hired to kill J. B. Marcum, who was the attorney for parties contesting the election of county officials. The defense during the forenoon attempted to have the case continued on account of the absence of witnesses and again in the afternoon on account of the illness of one of the attorneys for the defense. In both instances Judge Redwine ordered the trial to proceed.

Wiley May and Wm. Cope were the only witnesses at the afternoon session. May's admission that he "had a little grain" was a modest way of explaining that his condition would not permit of his testifying Thursday, that he was no better Friday morning and was kept in the jury room till in condition to testify. After testifying he was picked up on the street by soldiers and locked up on a charge of drunkenness. His testimony was that he saw Jett and White enter the side door of the courthouse a few minutes before the shooting. On cross-examination he said they were half way between the courthouse and post office when he last saw them. Cope corroborated the testimony of Ewen as to his actions after the shooting. Upon motion of Prosecutor Byrd court adjourned until Saturday morning.

The prosecution will rest its case before noon Saturday. Soldiers have been commissioned to secure the presence of several reluctant witnesses whose testimony will be heard when court reconvenes. The parties wanted are said to be hiding in the woods and some attribute their attitude to fear or intimidation. The defense will attempt to establish an alibi for Jett and prove that White had no connection with the killing. Over 70 witnesses have been summoned. The testimony of Judge Hargis and several other witnesses called by the defense is awaited with much interest in Jackson. The testimony Friday was not sensational. A motion to set aside the jury because of "surprise caused by the testimony of Mrs. Johnson" was overruled. Judge Hines left Friday afternoon for Frankfort to report his observations to the governor. He would not indicate what recommendations he would make.

HOTEL STRIKE IS ON.

Twenty-Five of the Hostleries in Chicago Are Badly Crippled.

Chicago, June 13.—The strike in the hotels of Chicago, impending for the last three weeks, materialized Friday and 25 of the leading hotels of Chicago were Friday night badly crippled in all departments. All of the hotels are running, however, and the proprietors declare that the establishments will remain open for business at any cost.

The Lexington hotel signed the scale presented by the union five minutes after the help had been called out.

The proprietors have agreed to submit nearly every point at issue to arbitration, but to this the unions will not consent. They insist that their demands for higher wages and shorter hours be granted before they will arbitrate anything, and insist also upon the absolute recognition of the union. To this latter demand the proprietors say they will never agree so long as the strikers maintain their present attitude.

The members of the Restaurant Keepers' association met Friday night and took action that is practically certain to shut up a number of their establishments Saturday morning.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—The differences between the Kansas City Southern railroad and its mechanics have been adjusted and the strike has officially been declared off. Most of the strikers have returned to work.

Acquitted By the Jury.

Boulder, Col., June 13.—Dr. Rudolph Baird, tried on the charge of having murdered his wife with poison, was Friday found not guilty by the jury and was discharged.

It has been pretty conclusively settled who assassinated J. B. Marcum, and there is also little doubt any longer as to the identity of the cowardly culprits who were back of the assassins. The punishment they deserve should be meted out to them, and that swiftly.

THE Postmaster General "regrets to report" that one of the assistant attorneys in his department has been arrested for boodling. It is also sad to relate, says an exchange, that the prisoner charged with the crime is a good Republican, and was vouched for by that good and great man, Senator Fairbanks. Indiana seems to be furnishing more than her share of these patriots for pelf.

THE fact that State troops have been ordered here to protect a trio of negro criminals from mob violence is damaging to the city and county, and is to be regretted. The law has prescribed the penalty for their crime and the law must prevail. Those who attempt to override the law or to disregard it in any way at once become offenders themselves. The one thing to be impressed on all is a more wholesome observance of law, and regard for the duly constituted authorities.

At last reports Mr. James W. Staton, who was stricken with paralysis at the Masonic banquet at Paris Wednesday night, was still in a critical condition. He has been removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington. His physicians have no hope of his recovery.

MR. J. B. FARROW.

Victim of Negro Assaultants to be Tried Under a Writ of Lunacy.

Mr. J. B. Farrow who was shot and wounded the first of February by the negroes, Tom Mann, Ed. Morris and Charles Saunders, will be tried to-day under a writ of lunacy. His health has been shattered by his wounds, and his mind has been failing. Of late he has been violent at times, and it was deemed best by his family to have him sent to the asylum for treatment.

The bullets have never been removed, and it is feared the wounds will eventually cause his death.

If he should die within a year and a day of the attack on him, his assailants can be punished for murder, and the prosecution will probably ask for a continuance of the case against them.

The rest of the estate, with the exception of a $30,000 bequest to the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, Louisville, goes to Mrs. Speed's heirs-at-law.

Mr. Henry Bertram, boots and shoes of 225 Market street, says: The great value of Doan's Kidney Pills are quickly proven. I procured them at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market streets. In a very short time I was cured of backache which had troubled me for some time. I gave some to a friend who suffered greatly from kidney ailments, and he said the results obtained from their use proved that Doan's Kidney Pills are a preparation which possesses remarkable value."

Notwithstanding it was prophesied by other Maysville shoe merchants that we would tire of advertising, "Money back or another pair if the pair you buy of us prove unsatisfactory," we continue and always will sell our Shoes with above guarantee. There are two reasons why we do so. First, we buy the best Shoes in the world and sell them at legitimate prices. Second, we don't want anybody's money without giving value for it. Good decoration need not mean the costly, or the elaborate, but it must always mean the appropriate and the timely.

is the clothing of the house, and styles in wall paper change as frequently as styles in clothing. It is equally true that a house decorated in colors or designs that are out of date is as incongruous as a woman of to-day in the garb of year before last. Call and examine our "Wall Paper."

MAYSICK, June 11th.—The northeastern portion of Mayslick was consumed by fire, the blaze starting about 1:30 this afternoon in the hay loft of Pat Ryan's livery stable. The stable was burned with everything it contained with the exception of the horses. The building was insured. The old "Stonewall house," one of our landmarks, owned by Mrs. Anna Ousley, was also completely destroyed with the contents of the house and saloon. Herbert Ousley had the building insured two days ago. Mrs. Ousley's blacksmith shop, Will Worthington's livery stable and blacksmith shop, a small house owned by Mr. Ryan fell a prey to the flames, while the I. O. O. F. hall, one of our finest buildings, and all it contained, with the exception of Mr. Scott Collins' most valuable undertaking goods, was in a little while a mass of smoking ruins. The loss in this building was great and it is said the insurance will not near cover the loss. Two other buildings, one owned by Mrs. Agnes Flanagan and the other the property of the Oddfellows, but both occupied by negroes, were also completely destroyed, few articles of furniture being saved. The new Bank of Mayslick was the first resistance with which the flames met, and by its position on the corner the entire line of residences of that street were saved. The bank was damaged to the extent of about $500, but is fully covered by insurance. For three hours the flames were stubbornly fought and the ground contested inch by inch by the brave men from every direction who had promptly responded to the call for help. Every article in the postoffice and store of Messrs. Hopper, also the household furniture of their mother, the venerable Mrs. Hopper, were carried to a place of safety by willing hands of both men and women who forgot their own danger in the need of others. Fortunately the fire was overcome and the building escaped.

Young's hotel and Mrs. Clary's residence were badly scorched, and Mr. Young was severely burned in his heroic efforts to save his property. Most of the telephone wires were destroyed in the first of the fight, but the news had already rapidly spread.

Many people from Maysville and Fleming County came out to view the ruins.

Two small brick houses owned by Mrs. Hutchison and Duke Scott were the last to yield to hungry power of the fire fiend. The fire department rendered valuable assistance and succeeded in saving much property.

A guard will be placed over the debris and every precaution taken until all danger of a fresh outbreak is over.

ALL KINDS OF FIRE

With a good Gas Range you can cook your soup over a slow fire, which it needs, and your roast over a quick fire, and both at the same time. How can you do this anyother way than with a GAS RANGE?

Gas Ranges At Factory Cost Price!

Never was such another opportunity afforded you to obtain so much value for the same money. During the month of June the Gas Company will, if so desired, make a written agreement with any purchaser of a Gas Range to the effect, that, if on the first day of August, said purchaser shall have become dissatisfied with the use of their Range, either for the reason that it will not do the work as represented, or that it costs too much to operate, then the Gas Company will take back the stove and refund any money paid upon its purchase price. The only thing to prevent you taking advantage of this offer is that the Ranges are sold quicker than they can be connected up, so if you are thinking of buying one, now is the time to decide. Over twenty installed during May and not a single complaint. For further particulars see the Gas Company and sample Ranges at Langfells & Co.'s.
